ANIMALS AND MUSIC.

THE TUNEFULNESS OF TINY LOITER-

Some animalt abhor music, at least some music but most animals love music A cow hies nothing better than singing and whistling and her milk flows gladly and whistling and her milk flows gladly for a chip that will sing to her as she turns her head and kisses him with her tongue A dog so far as I know, hates music except singing and whistling A piano sets him on edge, and a drum or fife makes him how! Horses I believe love martial music best—Every horse is naturally a wan horse and likes parade and the dash of military life. Next to this ho is in his element running with a fire engine. I know of no decent music that he dishkes. Cats unlike dogs, like pianos and organs. Of course we un derstand that nearly all birds have some musical taste although few have real skill. I know of but two real masters of song in our northern states the bobolink song in our northern states the bobolink and catherd although there are many more scall, sweet singers. The liquid silvery notes of the bobolink are like the dew of the early pure morning One al silvery notes of the bodomik are like the dew of the carby pure morning. One always associates them with waterfalls and the music of silver instruments. But the cathord is the marvel of all musicians. Ho is able to do about what he will.

But what led me to sit down to write was the music of the insects—tiny loiterers of a summer's day. It is a mistake to suppose the chief occupation of these diptens and hymenopteras is cating and worling—this making music. You should go out in haying time and sit down on a cock of hay in the middle of the day and then again in the evening and you will it you give yourself to listening have it called to you a new world. No you must not be thinking of other things. Close you care and lay your head back on the sweet hay. There! Are you not now concount of several strates of music reaching fully into the sky! The firt is these musical notes blend together about us in a vast harmony, that fulls our sense of hearing instead of quielening it. I am sure our hearing reeds a great deal more education than it generally gets. ABOUT the only item of political news to-day, of any importance, is the report that the Democrats around Washington have about abandoned the claim that they will have control of the next House of Representatives, and concede that it will be Republican by a small majority. This being true, removes about the last prop upon which the Democracy leaned.

He holds that so far as the Democrats in Federal offices are concerned, "every mother's son" of them should | pany will reach $59 601 be removed as soon as possible after the 4th of March next. Republicans generally will endorse this practical view of a more or less complicated issue.

During the late campaign it was asserted that the Illinois prohibitionists had agreed to give 15 per cent, of their votes to the Democrats on governor, and while the contract may not have been exactly carried out it seems evident from an examination of the returns that there must have been some system in the division of the prohibition vote between Harts and Palmer. Fisk received about 21,000 votes, while Harts received about 3,000 less. These 3,000 votes went to Palmor, who, under the alleged contract, should have had about 150 more than that from his prohibition allies. Some day this shameful bargain will come out, and until that time the public must be content with a consideration of the probabilities which the figures indicate.

St Louis Globe-Democrat It gives us great pleasure to be able to announce that all of the eight territories except two-New Mexico and Utah-are Republican. Arizona is strongly Republican in its legislature, while Dakota, Idaho, Montani, Wyoming and Washington have chosen Republican delegates to Congress. The other territories will come in as seven states- for Dakota will beformed into two states. Three or four will probably be in before 1892, and all will be in before 1890, and every one of them will give its electoral votes to the Republican prosidential candidates. Messrs. Democrats, this is a great and glorious country, and the Republicans are going to run it and keep it so.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The Parnell Com-mission resumed its sitting to-day, Lady mission resumed its sitting to-day. Lady Mount Morres, the widow of the late Lord Mount Morres deposed that a friendly feeling existed between her late husband and the tenants on his estates in Ireland until the Land League meetings began. In July, 1830, her husband obtained an electrical writ against one of the tenants, and on the 25th of September following, while the was absent in Scotland, her husband was shot and killed. She attended the funeral and left Ebor Hall, the family residence, in October of the same year. way to the steamer the people

A constable by the name of Drummond deposed that the people refused to assist the police in the inquiry into the Lord Mountmorris murder. On cross-examination Drummond said that he attributed the hostility of the people partly to Lord Mountmorris' conduct as magistrate, partly to his attitude regarding the land Sergeunt O'Connor said that he saw men dancing around some blood stains which marked the scene of the murder. Sir Henry James, counsel for the Times, said that he now proposed to give evidence concerning ourrages committed in County Kerry.

Sir Chis. Russell, Paraellite counsel, protested against the practice of jumping from one country to another in producing evidence Judge Hanner said that it was true that this method of giving evidence was dif-ficult to follow, but the coursel had as-sured him that there were no other means of shortening the case. The court then assented to Sir Henry James proceeding. Park, New Jersey. He was there last summer. Mr. Ennis in conversation with the REPUBLICAN reporter yesterday stated interest This afternoon U. M. Imboden received that Decatur people ought to be careful about giving hasty encouragement to the proposed Electric Street Railway project because he knew of his own knowledge that the electric railway at Asbury Park is a failure and has aroused a feeling of disgust among the people of that city, The cars do not move regularly and are liable to come to a standstill at any time and stay in the street until repairs are made He further stated that the poles along both sides of the streets necessary to carry the wire are unsightly objects. Riding along one of the streets one day last summer in a buggy one of the electric arms from a pole fell and came near striking Mr Ennis Had he been struck he feels that he would have been instantly killed In time of ice and snow Mr Ennis asserts that it is impossible to

'HOME COMFORT" FURNACES.

Malleable Iron, No Leaky Joints. Very Little Fuel,

No one can say that the time was not ripe for a new furnace. The days of brittle, porous, cast iron furnaces are numbered. In every branch of manufacture cast iron is being driven out by wrought iron and steel. Every bridge that goes down in a wreck of lives and property is found to have cast non members. Every bursting cannon which slays its friends rather, unthan its enemies is made of east iron. Every leaky furnace which poisons a household with its noisome gases is found to be made of the same cheap, unreliable material. Improved methods of manufacture have made steel and iron plate, of first quality, less expensive than cast iron formerly was, and it is plainly in accord with progress in other directions that there should be progress both in design and the material of furnaces for warming our

Have You Seen Them? Have You Heard Them?

They stand at the head of all instruments of this class. In quality of tone, beauty of action, their oughness of workmanship, the Ivers & Pond Pianos have never been excelled. The Ivers & Pond Pianos will wear longest, stand better and been excelled. The Ivers & Pond Pianos will wear longest, stand better and cost less to keep in order than any other Piano. The choice of Schools and Colleges. Although better, they cost no more than other first-class Pianos. Buy a rehable Piano, made by a rehable Manufacturer. Warranted for Five Years.

How do you like my new piano, Professor?"
Beautiful! beautiful! It is simply perfect, so brilliant and at the same time so rach and full, and such a singing quality. You have shown good judgment in choosing an Ivers & Pond, they are a first class house, and their pianos are among the very best. I used to think there was but one piano in the world, the —, but I I important the Ivers & Pond ire just as good, at a much lower price. I have I will led their pianos cirefully for years, as I have had the opportunity to do in my profess on and find that they are not made simply to sound well at first, but stand use in well as any prino made. You were wise to buy their piano and save money at the same time, Madam."
